

Topics – XML and XSL

1. Introduction to XML

- What is XML
- XML is a Meta-Markup Language
- XML Features
- Difference between XML and HTML
- How can XML be used?
- Brief History
- XML (Extensible Markup Language)

2. XML Syntax

- Elements, Tags, Contents
- XML Elements
- Attributes
- Use of Elements vs Attributes
- Empty Elements
- Comments
- Entity References
- CDATA
- Processing Instructions
- Rules to a Well-Formed XML Document
- Saving the XML file

3. Document Type Definitions

- Document Type Definitions
- Document Type Declaration
- Validating Against a DTD
- Element Type Declaration
- Comments in DTDs
- Sharing Common DTDs Among Documents
- DTDs at Remote URLs
- Public DTDs
- Attribute List Declaration
- Entity Declaration
- Conditional Sections in DTDs
- DTD Examples

4. Cascading Style Shee

- What Is CSS?
- Selection of Elements
- Inheritance

- Cascades
- The @import Directive
- The !important Declaration
- Cascade Order
- Comments in CSS Style Sheets
- CSS Units

5. Namespaces

- What are Namespaces?
- Namespace Syntax
- Namespaces and DTDs
- Namespace Attribute
- Using Namespaces

6. XSLT

- What is XSLT?
- Process of an XSL Transformation
- XSLT is rule-based
- Transforming the XML Document
- XSLT Namespace

7. XSL Formatting Objects

- Structure of an XSL-FO Document
- Master Pages
- First Program: Hello World
- Static Content
- Font and Text attributes
- Borders
- Paddings
- Backgrounds
- Lists
- Tables
- Graphics
- Leaders
- Footnotes
- Page Number
- Markers